ABOUT US

One Vision. One Foundation. Multiple Expressions of Impact.

AFTER SCHOOL HAVEN operates under Krin Asset Ltd., a diversified enterprise engaged in commercial real estate, property development, import and export, and e-commerce.

Krin Asset Ltd. is built on strategic leadership, operational structure, and long-term sustainability. Each brand under its umbrella is intentionally developed to create measurable value and meaningful impact.

One of those brands is Prophetic Kids — a faith-based children's media and lifestyle platform committed to providing clean, alternative content for young audiences.

Through Prophetic Kids, our founder authored The Prophetic Kids, now distributed internationally. The brand is expanding into animated entertainment, alongside educational puzzles, stickers, merchandise, and apparel designed to reinforce identity, character, and positive values in children.

AFTER SCHOOL HAVEN represents the educational and developmental extension of this broader vision.

While Prophetic Kids shapes what children watch, read, and wear, AFTER SCHOOL HAVEN focuses on how children learn, grow, and are supported daily through structured academic guidance, enrichment programming, and supervised care.

Together, these initiatives operate under one governance structure, one leadership vision, and one consistent value framework.

For families, this provides:

- Organizational stability
- Professional oversight
- Faith-rooted principles
- Educational expertise
- Long-term commitment to child development

AFTER SCHOOL HAVEN is not an isolated program. It is part of a carefully built ecosystem designed to support children holistically — academically, creatively, and spiritually.

WELCOME TO AFTER SCHOOL HAVEN

Where Faith, Learning & Purpose Come Together

At 2:00 PM, the school bell rings

Backpacks zip.

Little feet hurry.

The day has been full — lessons, friendships, challenges, victories.

And in the middle of busy schedules and long workdays, one question quietly lingers in the heart of every parent:

“Where will my child go to feel safe, seen, and supported?”

AFTER SCHOOL HAVEN was born from that question.

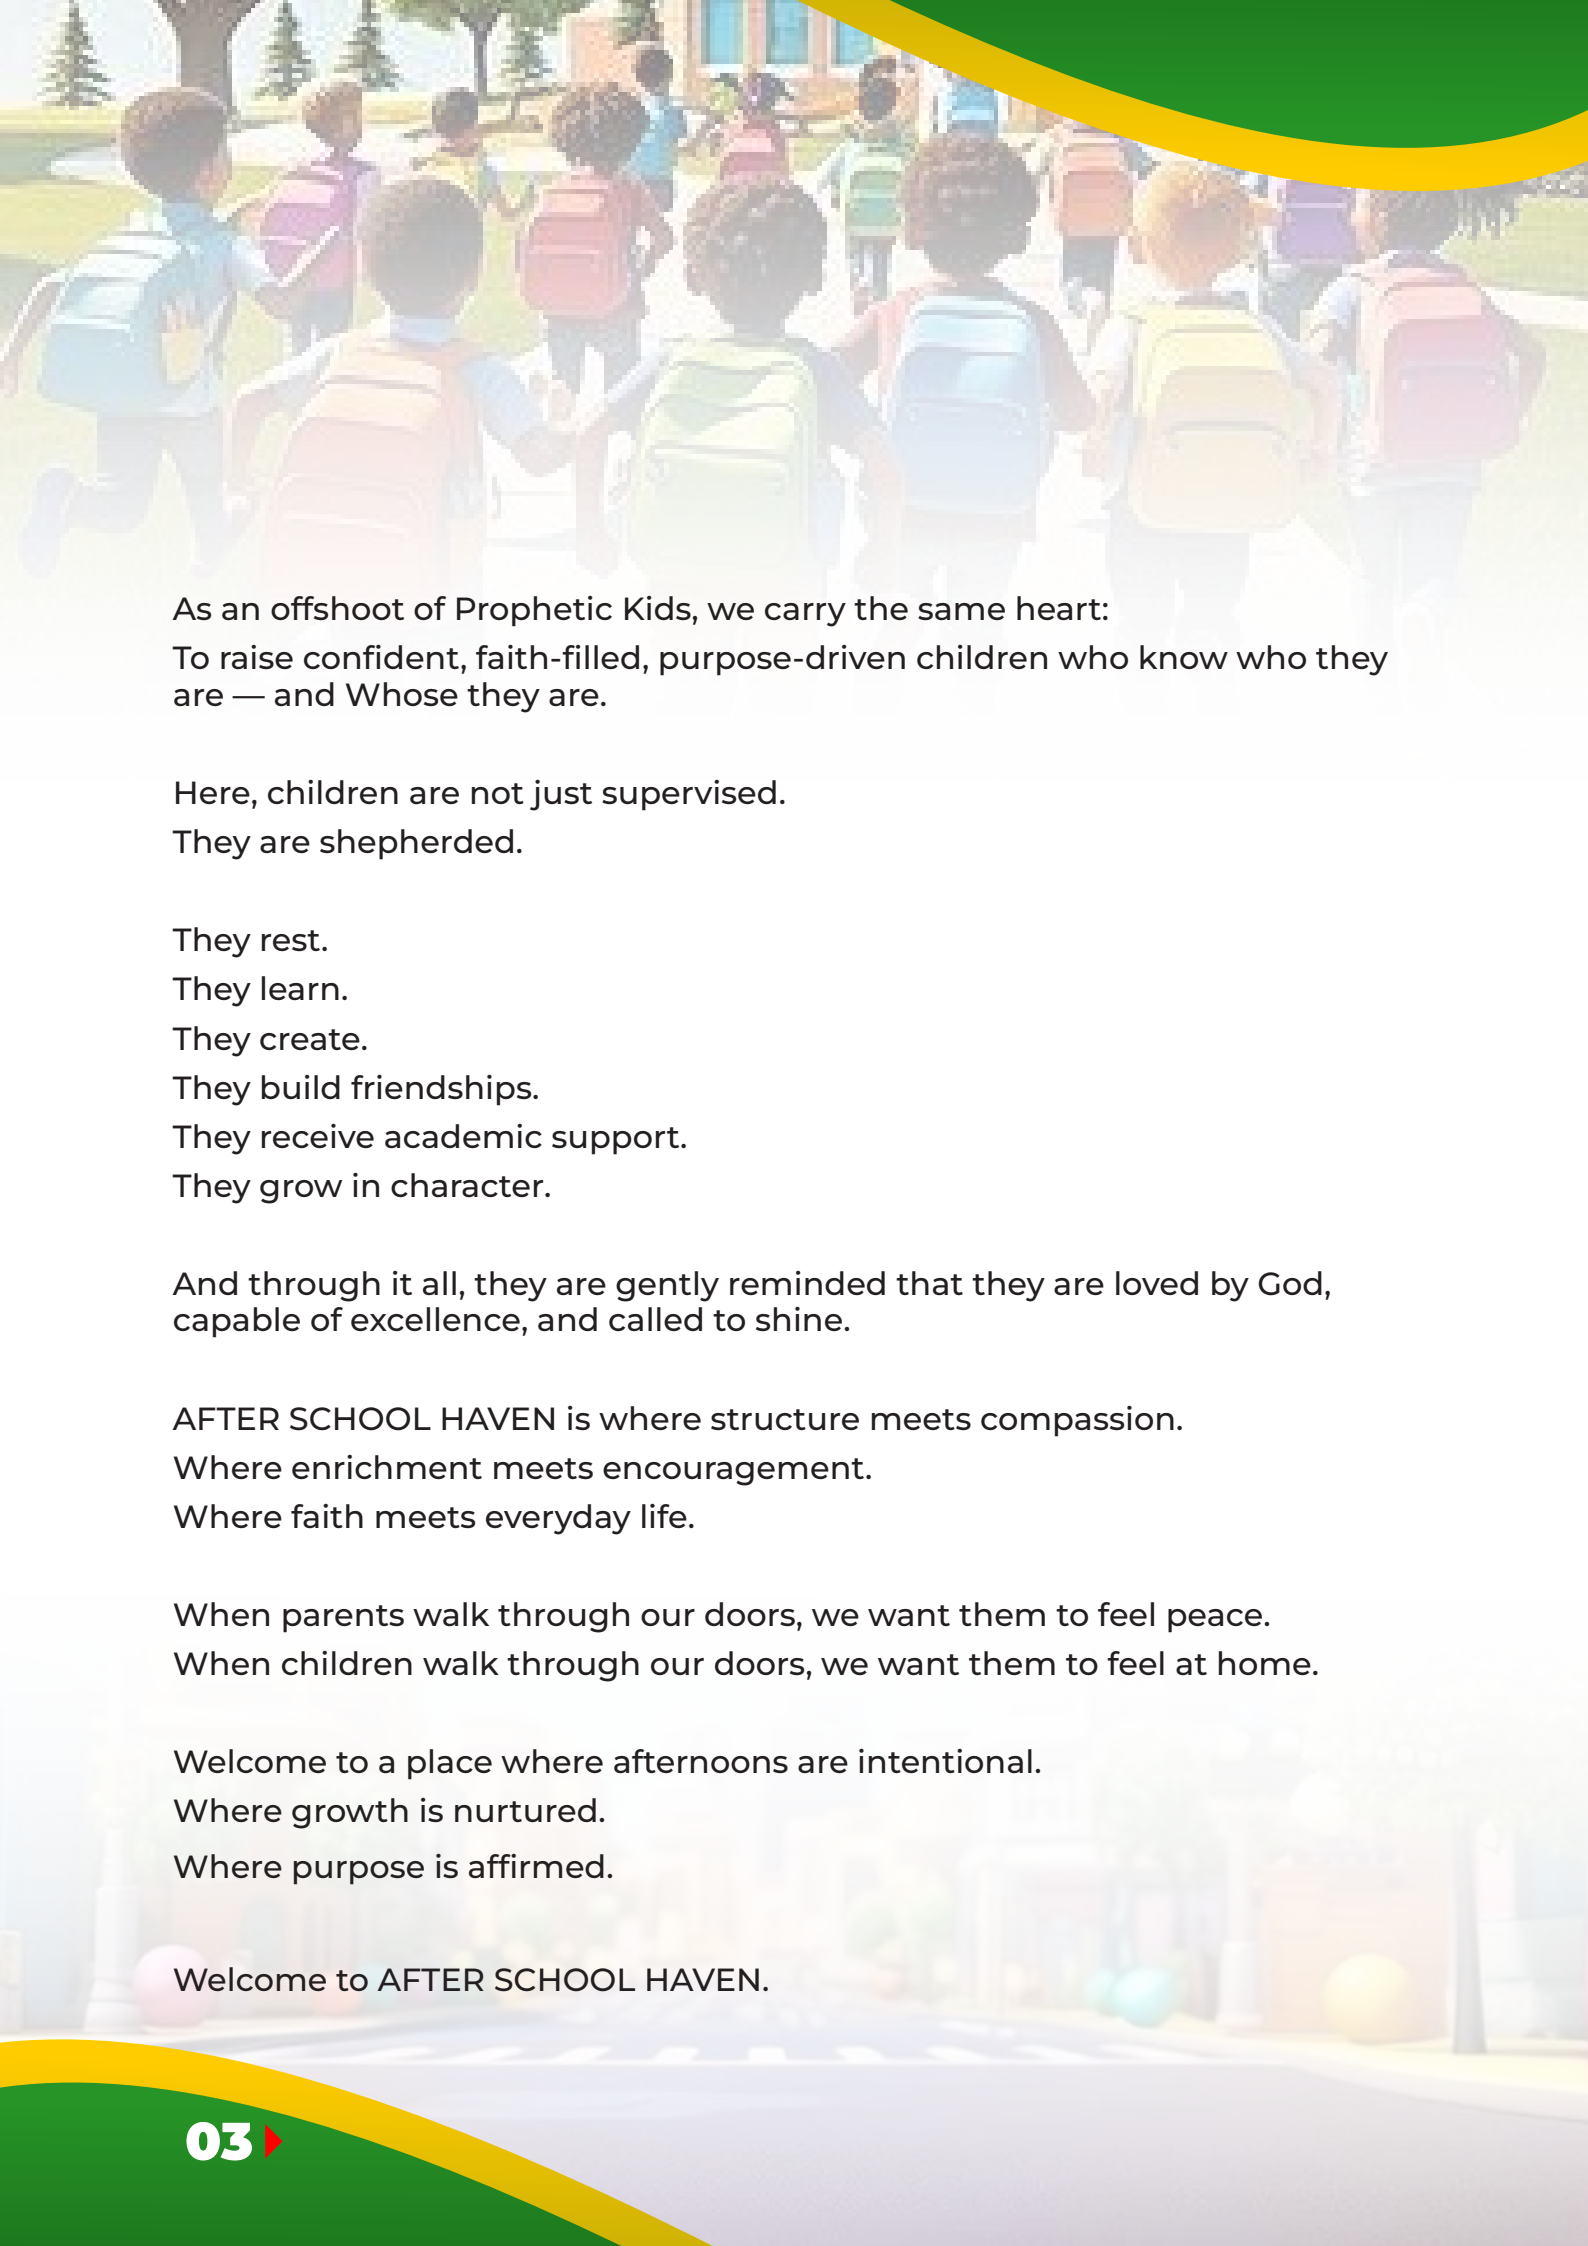

We are more than an after-school program.

We are a covering.

A safe place.

A nurturing extension of what God has already placed inside your child.

Rooted firmly in the Word of God, AFTER SCHOOL HAVEN stands on the belief that every child is created with divine purpose, unique gifts, and untapped potential. Our foundation is biblical truth, loving guidance, and intentional development.

As an offshoot of Prophetic Kids, we carry the same heart:
To raise confident, faith-filled, purpose-driven children who know who they are — and Whose they are.

Here, children are not just supervised.
They are shepherded.

They rest.
They learn.
They create.
They build friendships.
They receive academic support.
They grow in character.

And through it all, they are gently reminded that they are loved by God, capable of excellence, and called to shine.

AFTER SCHOOL HAVEN is where structure meets compassion.
Where enrichment meets encouragement.
Where faith meets everyday life.

When parents walk through our doors, we want them to feel peace.
When children walk through our doors, we want them to feel at home.

Welcome to a place where afternoons are intentional.
Where growth is nurtured.
Where purpose is affirmed.

Welcome to AFTER SCHOOL HAVEN.

A Word From Our Founder

If you are a parent in Lekki or Ajah, I see you.

The early mornings.

The long workdays.

The emails that don't stop.

And the traffic — the long, stretching hours along the Lekki–Ajah corridor that can turn a short distance into an exhausting journey.

By the time you finally get home, your child still has assignments to complete. There are spelling words to revise. Projects to finish. Reading logs to sign.

And somewhere between dinner and fatigue, you're expected to be fully present.

I understand that tension.

Not because parents don't care — but because life is full.

AFTER SCHOOL HAVEN was created to stand in that gap.

To ease the load.

To reduce the evening pressure.

To turn those stressful homework hours into structured, supported progress.

While you navigate meetings or sit through traffic, your child is not idle. They are settled into guided homework time. They are receiving help from experienced educators who understand curriculum expectations. They are building independent study habits. They are engaging in enrichment that strengthens creativity and confidence.

So when you arrive for pick-up at 6 PM, the dynamic shifts.

Instead of beginning the homework battle, you are reviewing completed work.

Instead of rushing through assignments, you are having dinner conversations.

Instead of stress, there is relief.

Your evenings become lighter.

And your child benefits too.

They gain:

- Consistency
- Academic reinforcement
- Structured mentorship
- Positive peer interaction
- A calm, faith-rooted environment

As a children's book author whose stories have reached families across seven countries, I have dedicated my life to nurturing young minds. AFTER SCHOOL HAVEN is an extension of that calling — but now, it is also an extension of support to parents.

This program is not just about what happens between 2 PM and 6 PM.

It is about restoring balance to your home.

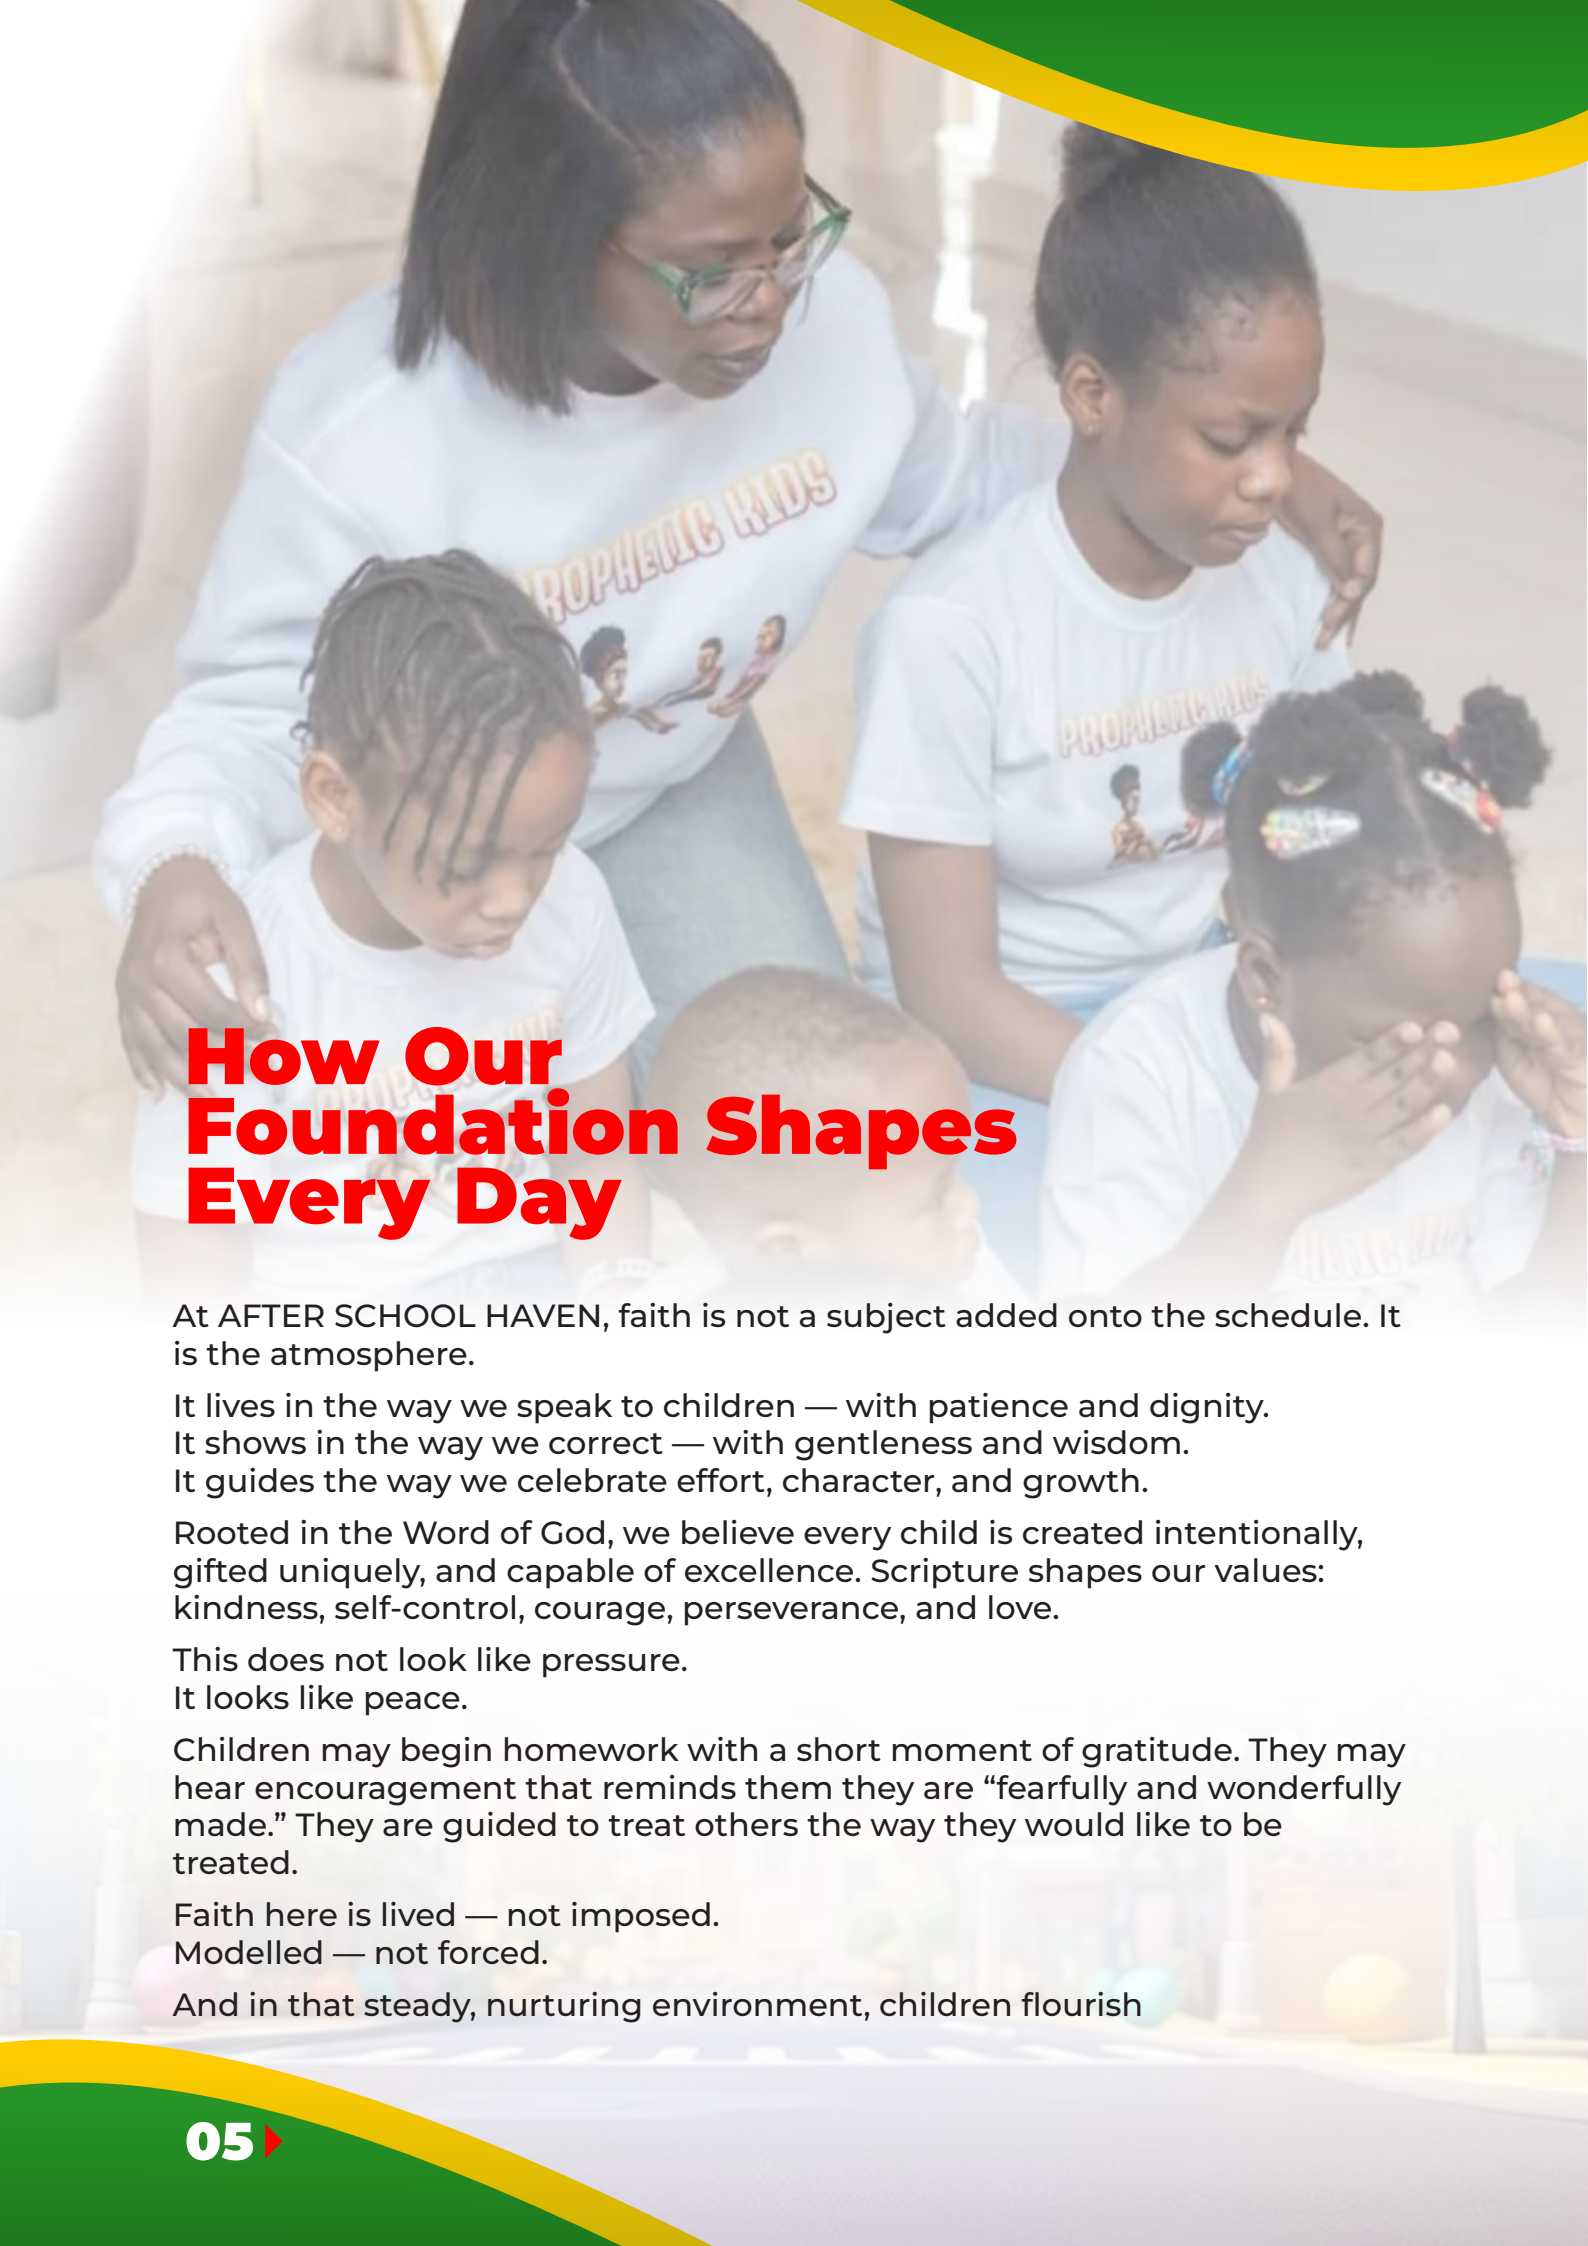

It is about helping children thrive academically and emotionally.

It is about giving parents breathing room without guilt.

In a fast-paced community like ours, families need more than childcare.

They need partnership.

And that is what AFTER SCHOOL HAVEN is here to provide.

A woman with glasses and three children are gathered around a table. They are all wearing white t-shirts with the text 'PROPHETIC KIDS' and a graphic of three children. The woman is leaning over the table, and the children are looking down at something on the table. The background is a bright, indoor setting with a green and yellow curved border at the top.

How Our Foundation Shapes Every Day

At AFTER SCHOOL HAVEN, faith is not a subject added onto the schedule. It is the atmosphere.

It lives in the way we speak to children — with patience and dignity.
It shows in the way we correct — with gentleness and wisdom.
It guides the way we celebrate effort, character, and growth.

Rooted in the Word of God, we believe every child is created intentionally, gifted uniquely, and capable of excellence. Scripture shapes our values: kindness, self-control, courage, perseverance, and love.

This does not look like pressure.
It looks like peace.

Children may begin homework with a short moment of gratitude. They may hear encouragement that reminds them they are “fearfully and wonderfully made.” They are guided to treat others the way they would like to be treated.

Faith here is lived — not imposed.
Modelled — not forced.

And in that steady, nurturing environment, children flourish

Why Our Team Is Different?

There is something deeply reassuring about experienced hands.

Our supervisors are not temporary caregivers. They are qualified educators with over ten years of experience in mainstream education. They have stood in classrooms. They have supported struggling learners. They have stretched high achievers. They understand curriculum, learning styles, and classroom expectations.

When a child feels stuck, they recognize it quickly.

When a child is gifted, they nurture it carefully.

When a child needs encouragement, they offer it sincerely.

And at the heart of the Haven is our founder — a children's book author whose stories have reached families in seven different countries, with over a thousand copies sold. Her life's work has centred around shaping young minds through imagination, literacy, and faith.

This is not accidental work.

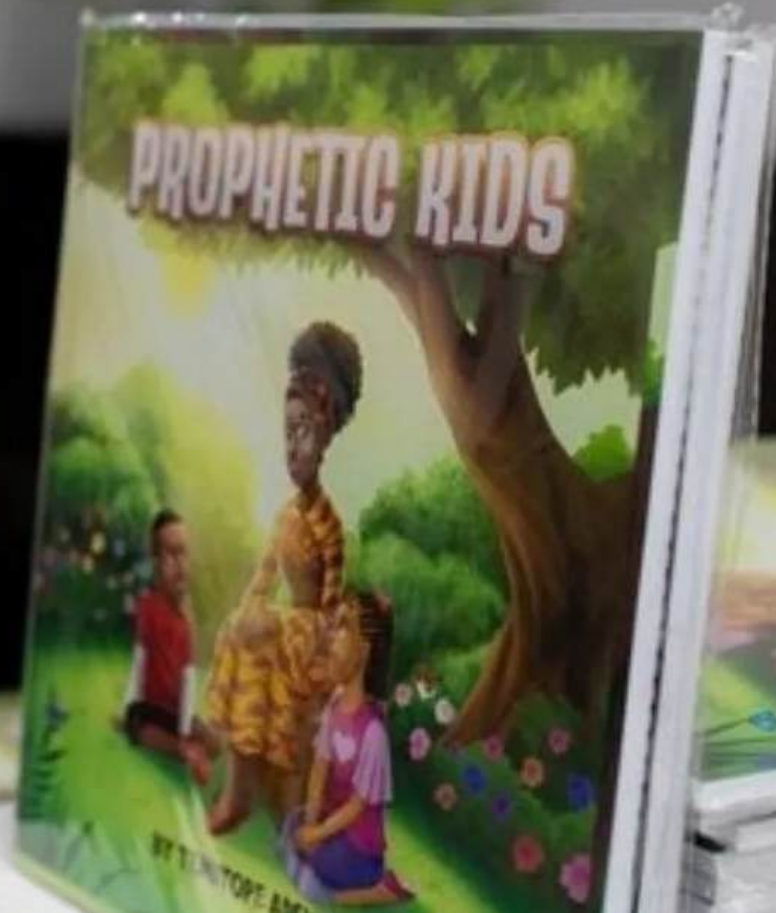

It is a calling.

Your children are guided by people who understand both education and purpose — structure and creativity — discipline and compassion.

Our Program Pillars

Academic Support

- Structured homework time: After a short moment to breathe and reset, children settle into a calm, focused space designed for productivity. No rushing. No chaos. Just gentle guidance and quiet encouragement. We create a rhythm where homework feels manageable — and children learn that focus is a skill they can grow
- Assignment guidance: When a child says, “I don't understand,” we don't simply give answers. We sit beside them. We ask questions. We guide their thinking. Step by step, they move from confusion to clarity — building confidence that carries back into the classroom the next day.
- Reading reinforcement: Stories come alive here. Whether sounding out new words or diving into chapter books, we nurture strong readers through guided reading, conversation, and encouragement. Because when a child learns to love reading, they unlock every other subject.
- Encouragement of independent learning habits: We gently shift children from “Can you do this for me?” to “I can try.” Through patient coaching, goal-setting, and praise for effort, we help them take ownership of their work — developing responsibility, resilience, and pride in what they accomplish on their own.

Enrichment & Exploration

- Music & creative arts: Some afternoons, the room hums with melody. Other days, it fills with stories waiting to be told. Our founder — a children's book author whose stories have traveled into homes across seven countries — believes creativity is one of the purest ways a child discovers their voice. Here, children sing, write, imagine, and express freely. They are not just completing activities — they are learning that their ideas matter.
- Tech & computer literacy: In a world shaped by technology, children need more than access — they need understanding. Under the guidance of experienced educators with over a decade in mainstream classrooms, students learn practical digital skills: typing, research, online safety, and responsible use. We don't hand them screens to pass the time. We teach them how to use tools with confidence and wisdom.
- STEM challenges: Curious minds are powerful things. Through hands-on experiments, building challenges, and problem-solving activities, children are invited to ask, "What happens if...?" Our qualified supervisors know how to turn curiosity into learning moments — the kind that spark resilience, critical thinking, and a love for discovery.
- Arts and Crafts: Paint on fingertips; concentration in their eyes, pride in their finished work. Arts and crafts at AFTER SCHOOL HAVEN aren't about perfection — they're about process. Children learn patience, creativity, and attention to detail while creating something they can hold in their hands and say, "I made this."
- Team-building activities: Laughter echoes during group challenges. Small hands work together. Leaders emerge. Shy voices grow stronger. With seasoned teachers guiding interactions, children learn how to communicate, resolve conflict, encourage one another, and celebrate shared success. These are the skills that shape not only good students — but strong, confident individuals.

Founder & Director

Temitope Adewuyi – Founder, After School Haven

Temitope Adewuyi is more than a Christian children's book author — she is a mother at heart who understands the quiet concerns many parents carry every day.

As the author of Prophetic Kids, which has sold over 1,000 copies in 7 countries, and the Executive Producer of its animated series, Temitope is committed to giving children clean, faith-filled stories in a world where wholesome media is becoming rare. She believes children deserve content that builds their identity, strengthens their faith, and protects their innocence.

But her passion goes even deeper.

Temitope understands the guilt many parents feel — the long work hours, the busy schedules, the worry about what their children are exposed to after school. Through After School Haven, she created a safe, loving space where children are not just supervised, but seen, heard, nurtured, and guided in faith.

Her background in Law, leadership, and operations gives her the structure and excellence needed to run a secure and well-organized environment. Her spiritual training through programs such as Hosting His Presence and the RIG School of Apostles & Prophets, along with her training as a counsellor, ensures that children are cared for with wisdom, discernment, and compassion.

At After School Haven, parents can breathe easier. Their children are safe. Their faith is being nurtured. And their growth matters.

Temitope's heart is simple: to partner with parents, support families, and raise children who know God, hear His voice, and walk confidently in who they are created to be.
